

Important Update – Entomed MedTech AB is merging into Demant Sweden AB

Dear Customer,

We are writing to inform you about an important development regarding Entomed MedTech AB. As part of our continued efforts to strengthen and streamline our operations, we are pleased to announce that Entomed MedTech AB is being merged into Demant Sweden AB, effective January, 5, 2025.

This merger represents an exciting step forward, allowing us to better serve you by combining the strengths, expertise, and resources of both organizations in Svedala and Sundbyberg (Stockholm).

Demant Sweden AB is part of the global Demant Group, a leading provider of hearing healthcare and audio technology, and shares our commitment to quality, innovation, and customer care.

What This Means for You

- Continuity of Service: There will be no interruption to your current services or support. Your usual contacts, service agreements, and product offerings will remain unchanged for the time being.
- Enhanced Support and Solutions: Going forward, you will benefit from access to a broader range of services, technologies, and support from Demant Sweden AB.
- Updated Company Information: As of the merger date, all invoices, legal documents, and communications will be issued under the name Demant Sweden AB. Updated company and bank details will be provided separately where relevant.

We are committed to making this transition as seamless as possible for you and appreciate your continued trust and partnership. If you have any questions or require further information, please don't hesitate to reach out to your usual contact by phone or email.
